I N H O N O U R O F T E R R O I R

If you've ever asked what's in this cocktail? you, friend, have asked the right question. But, we'll wager that you've never heard the correct answer – until now. For the drink is more than the sum of its parts. It is the total of what, and who, made these components. And how, and when, and where, they did it. Just as with fine wine, the heart of the cocktail lies in TERROIR. All of the natural elements that create unique growing conditions – specific to just one location – harnessed by the artistry and understanding of those who tend that land.

You might say that Peridot's Chief Mixologist François Cavelier is also one of a kind – taking this philosophy grown from wine cultivation and applying it, through our Terroir Programme, to the spirits we will feature in turn. To honour each exquisitely crafted flavour and elevate its characteristics. Through blending, bitters, glass and garnish. To be as finely finished as it was begun. Because, just as it could start in only one place on earth, so was it destined to be enjoyed only here.

K A G O S H I M A

The first terroir we bring to you, in spirit, is that of Kagoshima city at the southern tip of the isle of Kyūshū. Here, thanks to the nearby Sakurajima volcano, the mineral-rich soil, in concert with excellent drainage and clement weather, is keenly suited to growing one of Kagoshima's two most famous products – sweet potatoes.

And, since fortune is kind, sweet potatoes are also the key ingredient in the region's second celebrated creation its signature shōchū. No wonder, then, that Kagoshima is known as the 'Shōchū Kingdom'.

But this is just our starting point. Peridot's Terroir Programme is a rich and respectful journey into the flavour profiles of this iconic spirit – each cocktail a creative exploration of tastes ranging from sweet to dry – honouring the masterful production techniques of the makers who, along with the land, shape its flavours in equal measure.

NUDE STUDY

168

Kiko was an artist's model who demanded the studio to be scented with yuzu and timur pepper. A portrait of restrained desire that vanishes like an evanescent thought.

Served: Straight up in coupe glass

Flavour profile: Citrusy & spicy

DURIAN'S CONSENT

168

It was in a crowded Kagoshima market that Hayato dared Jeanne to try the durian. She recoiled, then laughed, then leaned in. That first, brave, mutual bite, where funk gave way to sweet addiction, became their story.

Daiyame 40% imo shochu, Havana Club 3 year rum, Luxardo Maraschino cherry liqueur, lime, Musang King durian cordial

Served: Straight up in Kimura tropical coupe glass

Flavour profile: Tropical & silk

THE CONFIDENTIAL

168

In a midnight Kagoshima bar called 'Vendanges' a spy's secret was a cocktail: A clean rice vodka base, a tart vermouth whisper and a purple-sweet-potato message sealed with a single olive.

Haku vodka, Saison rhubarb vermouth, purple sweet potato water reduction

Served: Straight up in Kimura martini glass

Flavour profile: Fruity & savory

THE 3 A.M. WHISKY

YUZU'S REPLY

168

Served: Straight up in Kimura coupe

GREEN EYES

168

Her Chartreuse-green eyes sparked a volatile tango between a Kyushu potter and Oaxacan artist. This drink is their sunset argument in a pineapple field, sharp, tropical, and bitterly beautiful.

Served: Ice-filled Kimura rock glass

AFTERGLOW

168

The guests are gone, the last record has spun and the only light comes from the embers of Sakurajima volcano glowing against the night. Like the silence between two people when words are no longer necessary.

Served: Straight up in Edo Kiriko crystal cut glass

Flavour profile: Roasty & herbal

THE BLUSH

128

It was the first time the tea master's daughter noticed the young potter watching her. Her cheeks flushed with the bright citrus, her pulse quickened like the effervescent kick of the kombucha. Later, she would burn palo santo to remember the sacred scent of that first blush.

Hassaku and bergamot cordial, salty lime kombucha, palo santo

Served: On ice in a Kimura crystal rock glass

Flavour profile: Citrusy & woody

VOLCANIC GUAVA

128

In Sakurajima's shadow, a geologist and perfumer shared a temperate romance: a quiet eruption of sweet bursts and floral whispers.

Clarified guava, sour cherries & garam masala wine, apricot kernel, agave nectar, saline, citrus flower water

Served: Straight up in a Kimura tropical coupe glass

Flavour profile: Fruity tropical

DANCING WITH MEMORIES

128

Valentina arrived from Guadalajara and slid into a Kagoshima izakaya, taking the last seat beside a salaryman. She ordered a drink that spoke two tongues. The familiar savory punch of a Mexican michelada dancing with Kagoshima's sharp yuzu. The salaryman tasted his own memories in her glass and for the first time all week, forgot to check the time.

Clamato Juice, yuzu, shoyu, tamarind, chipotle chilli, celery

Served: Toyo Sasaki tumblr glass

Flavour profile: Hot & savory

ALEX'S NOTE

128

A Hong Kong pianist arrived in Kagoshima searching for a lost melody. He found his composition written in the landscape itself, in notes of roasted pineapple sun, coconut tides, lime-sea breezes, and the deep bassline of Beni Imo's volcanic earth. There, he discovered the island's rhythm was the song he'd been chasing all along.

Roasted pineapple, coconut, recomposed lime, beni imo potato water reduction

Served: On ice in Toyo Sasaki highball glass

Flavour profile: Tropical, nutty, custard-like

CHICHIBU DISTILLERY

The story is inseparable from the story of its founder, the late Ichiro Akuto. He is the grandson of the founder of the Hanyu Distillery, which closed in 2000. When the distillery's parent company went bankrupt, the stock of aging Hanyu whisky, including the now-legendary "Ichiro's Malt" playing card series, was at risk of being destroyed. Ichiro rescued these casks and founded Venture Whisky in 2004 to bottle and sell them. The success and reputation gained from selling these legendary whiskies provided the capital and credibility to build his own distillery.

PENNCO DISTILLERY

Pennco Distillery (later known as Publicker Industrial Alcohol Co.) was once a titan of American spirits production. Located in Philadelphia, it was constructed during World War II to supply industrial alcohol for the war effort.

In the post-war era, Pennco shifted to massive-scale production of bourbon and rye whiskey, becoming one of the largest distilleries in the United States by volume. However, this focus on quantity over quality, combined with complex financial troubles, ultimately led to its downfall.

The distillery closed in 1981 and was later destroyed in a catastrophic series of fires in the 1990s. Today, Pennco is a ghost, its story serves as a cautionary tale of boom and bust, while its remaining bottles of Old Overholt and Pure Kentucky rye have become rare, sought-after relics from a lost era of American distilling.

Pennco Distillery was purchased and renamed to Michter's.
